Horseshoe Is For Teens Who Are

- Interested in learning and developing social, civic, leadership, service, entrepreneurial skills;
- Positive in meeting and working with others, participating, helping others and groups succeed;
- Doers - who do their part to keep a place and activities clean, safe and positive for others;
- Ready to live away from home with more than 100 teens, to step out of their daily routine into a new world of activities and experiences;
- Committed to building real relationships by “unplugging” from the virtual world to meet face-to-face with other teens and adults without the distractions of the electronic world (cell phones, internet, television, etc.).
- Able to be a key part of the week’s success in the lives of others and to take what’s learned home to make their homes, schools, organizations and communities better places for all.

5. Agreements

I attest that if my application to attend is accepted, I will attend the total conference beginning Sunday afternoon and ending after breakfast on Saturday. I will not ask to come later or leave early. I will not take the place of a person who can attend the whole week so I can be accommodated for only part of the week.
